Stirling Wins T. V. H. L. Trophy in Play-Offs

STIRLING 3, TWEED 2

O, how wonderful! O, what a glorious ending! Stirling has again captured the trophy in the Trent Valley Hockey League—this makes two years in succession.

The Stirling Red and Whites journeyed to Tweed last Friday night, along with about 300 fans, via special train to stage the first game in the finals, with the sextette of that village. The outcome of the fray was a score of two all. This tie no doubt took a little wind from the sails of the Tweedites, who have gone through the entire season with seventeen wins and only three losses. The fray was keen and playing honors were even.

On Tuesday night the final game was played in the local arena and the Red and Whites came through with a 3 to 2 victory, winning the round 5 to 4 and the League Memorial of victory.

One of the largest crowds of fans assembled at the rinkside. The gate receipts were slightly over $612.00. Last year Tweed came by special train for the final game, but claiming that they were not treated fairly and that a number were unable to gain admission to see the tilt, owing to neglect on the part of the rink management, they dropped the special train idea this year. With fans from the different towns in the league, the arena was packed and standing room was at a premium ere the tilt started.

The ice on Tuesday night was anything but fast. At times water polo would have been more seasonable. However the players of both teams put their every ounce of grit into the game, with the result that the contest was very fast considering the ice conditions. The Tweed players went down fighting hard and are to be commended for their stick-toitiveness. Only one penalty was handed out and Smith was the guilty party for tripping Ackers. On the entire play Stirling had the edge and deservid the win. Some Tweed supporters claim that if that team's regular goalie, Quinn, had been in action, the result may have been different. However, Wager, who guarded the nets, was no slouch and played a splendid game. Don Morton was the hero many times during the game. Don is cool in action and certainly used his head when clearing the net.

The first period was Stirling's, with two counts being made while the visitors won a zero mark. Ingram notched the first tally when the period was about half played; Davis scored the second goal a few minutes later. Both scores were made on individual rushes. During this period long shots were resorted to by both teams owing to the heavy, slushy ice. Wallace showed up much better than in the game in Tweed. Hoard relieved Parnell in this period and played snappy hockey while in the fracas. Tweed took a spurt after their opponents' scoring. Smith and the Geraldi brothers sent several wicked shots at Morton, without success. Puck-kicking, offsides and forward passes were quite numerous and the referee was about to face-off after Smith had kicked the gypsum, when the gong sounded, ending the frame with the score, Stirling 2, Tweed 0.

Second Period

The second period started off with a little more speed. Five minutes after the start Ingram outwitted Wager for the third count after a lovely rush. The visitors immediately jumped to the offensive while Stirling resorted to a more or less defensive game. Smith was chased for tripping Ackers. It looked as if the Red and Whites had things under control when J. Ackers made a "faux paus" by passing the puck in front of his goal. M. Geraldi was waiting in the right spot, picked up the rubber and slammed it past Morton. This spurred the visitors on and for a while Stirling had to resort to a more offensive game. Offsides were prominent. A couple of times M. Geraldi caught the rubber and placed it to suit himself, but was checked up by Referee Wortley. Wagar had to come out and jump on top of the puck a la stomach to stop a Davis rush. Long shots were in vogue. On a mix-up at Tweed goal the umpire stuck up his hand for a tally but later withdrew his decision as the gypsum had not crossed the blue line. Smith could not get the puck out from behind Stirling net so he kicked it. The referee saw him and the bell sounded. Shortly after Alex Geraldi was in the same predicament, but he picked it up to get it out, but Wortley's eagle eye saw him and the bell stopped the play. Davis, Ingram and Ackers for Stirling; Ray Quinn, Smith and Alex Geraldi made a couple of lovely rushes for their respective teams. After shooting the puck up and down the ice for a few minutes the gong sounded and the sandwich period ended with Stirling 3 and Tweed 1.

Third Period

Four offsides were staged in about same number of minutes after the face-off, with each team capturing two. A mix-up occurred in front of Stirling goal with no score, but Morton was slammed in the eye with the puck. The referee did not notice his injury until the play had been returned to Tweed end, when he stopped the game. Don's orb was sightless fo ra moment or so but he soon resumed his duties. Offsides galore. Wallace received the full force of Ingram's shot at centre ice—bell. Wallace escaped injury. G. Geraldi scored Tweed's second count from centre ice. The little ruber sphere rolled between Morton's legs. Excitement went to a high pitch, but try any way they could the tie could not be broken and the gong ended the game with the score Stirling 3, Tweed 2.

The lineups were:

Tweed		Stirling
Wager	Goal	Morton
R. Quinn	R.D.	Ingram
A. Geraldi	L.D.	J. Ackers
G. Geraldi	C.	Davis
Smith	R.W.	Wallace
M. Geraldi	L.W.	Parnell
F. Geraldi	Subs	Hoard
Hassford		McGee

Referee—Ernie Wortley, Toronto.

PUCKERINGS

A letter of thanks should be sent to the Madoc team for eliminating Frankford, thus shooting Stirling into the play-offs. For if Madoc had lost to Frankford, the trophy would not be remaining in Stirling for another season. It sure was a lucky break for the Red and Whites.

There is a rumor that Frankford band was up here to play the celebration march if Tweed had been victorious. Oh what a disappointment, if such is true.

There is no doubt that on Tuesday night's play the best team won. The Red and Whites had the game under control most of the time.

It was a nasty break for Tweed after going through the season with so many victories and then to lose out in the finals for the "mug."

Thos. Heard, the old sport, was "Johnnie on the spot" when the time arrived to show respect to the players. He was one of the first to pick up a player in the carrying-around-the-rink festival. Following the game Red and White players were put on the shoulders and paraded around the arena. The trophy comes to Stirling for the second time.

Every Stirling player was up to form and there was no star. That also goes for the Tweed hockeyists. It was a fast game on soft ice.

Words of praise are due W. J. Whitty, manager of the Red and Whites. Bill is well liked by the players which goes a long way in making a winning team. He knows hockey and it was by his brainy management that Stirling won the league honors.

The members of the hockey team will be honored in the near future when a banquet will be held.

According to reports nearly every town in the league, with the exception of Madoc, wanted to see Stirling lose. Why? One Marmora fan stated that it was because the players and local fans were poor sports, particularly the sport writer in the News-Argus. Perhaps so, but it very, very seldom happens that genuine poor sports win out.

STIRLING2, TWEED 2

The following article relating to the hockey game, Tweed vs. Stirling, in the former town last Friday night, appeared in Thursday's issue of the Belleville Intelligencer:

To Stirling's Senior Hockey Team

Stirling! Stirling! Oh boy what a team!
Some are thirty and some sweet sixteen,
Little that matters, they win every time
On all kinds of ice and in all kinds of clime.

They back up their colors with strength and with skill,
They got the cup last year and this year will still.
They're fast and they're fair and above all they're gritty
And they always obey their good Captain, Bill Whitty.

Although they are only one unit of six,
They're the best of them all, when handling sticks,
And puck-chasing too, of all I have seen
Not one holds a candle to our Hockey Team.

At the goal Morton stands like a soldier on guard;
The opponents by Davis and Ingram are barred;
Jack Ackers, the wanderer, has played many years,
But when he gets the puck we discard all our fears.

The subs—who could wish for two better than they?
McGee and Hoardy, they sure sweep the way.
The left wing has Wallace, the right wing Parnell,
And they're sure to tally before the third bell.

Tweed team is good, sir, at puck chasing too,
But Stirling excells them—I'm sure this is true.
The Paper Town team sure does fill up the space,
Though Stirling can beat them at any old place.

Madoc was down at the foot of the line,
But with Stirling's ex-goalie, oh! how they did shine!
The wolves from the north, those from Marmora I mean,
Are very good players, when considering the team.

But I mustn't forget the Campbellford sockers,
Although they are merely a swell team of boxers.
Three shouts for our team, for the tiger one cheer,
And then all is over again till next year.

Waterworks System Discussed Last Night

About sixty residents of the village attended the meeting in the interests of a Permanent Waterworks System, held in Stirling Theatre last night. Reeve Montgomery called the gathering to order at 8.15 and stated that the purpose of the meeting was to get the feeling of the ratepayers on the question and asked that a chairman be appointed. Mr. W. S. Martin was selected to occupy the chair for the meeting.

Mr. Martin in his remarks stated that he found himself in the peculiar position of being chairman of a meeting called for a question that he was totally opposed to. He emphasized that the meeting was open to discussion and the asking of questions.

Mr. D. H. Fleming, of the Layne-Bowler Co., Toronto, was the first speaker to be called upon. Prior to his address, Reeve Montgomery arose and stated that he had invited Mr. Fleming to address the gathering.

Mr. Fleming stated that the business of his company was to develop water supply from deep wells. If you were asked the question "Do you want water; the answer would undoubtedlybe yes if it does not cost anything. A waterworks plant is a great deal like an electric light plant. The cost daily is about the same as a cheap cigar or some other luxury. The cost of a waterworks system is from $50 as the minimum and $100 the maximum, per head." Mr. Fleming described the waterworks installation in other villages similar in size to Stirling, where the system was self-sustaining. A permanent water system is improved fire-fighting equipment and thus it materially reduces fire insurance premiums. Mr. Fleming outlined the system of securing the revenue, such as so much per service, and a special rate on the fire hydrants. If the system would cost $70,000 it would mean that $4,500 would be the yearly expense. The speaker said: "One way to go ahead with the system is to have an election or vote on it. Our experience is that a vote on a money by-law is not the most democratic, as it seems, Tenants, who do not own property may be willing to pay for waterworks but cannot vote on it. Neither can the young men around twenty years of age who would help pay in future years. The ladies should be considered, it is for their convenience. Another way is to have a public meeting and get the sentiment of the citizens and with their support the Council can get permission from the Provincial Board of Health to proceed with installation. The third way is the it can be done under the local improvement plan, the same as sidewalks, and waterworks would be installed on streets where desired."

Following the address, Mr. Martin requested that anyone desirous of asking any question should do so at that time.

Delbert Utman wanted to know if the showing of hands was sufficient to authorize the council to go ahead on the matter. "There are some people in town," he said, "that have hands, but no property." Mr. Utman thought that a vote would be more fair.

Thos. Cranston wanted to know if the fire protection would benefit the entire town or if property owned at the limits would be overlooked. Mr. Fleming felt sure everyone would be taken care of.

Chairman Martin—"The village paper stated that the council was unanimous for the waterworks. If the paper states what is correct the councillors should state their position tonight."

Reeve Montgomery was the first to be called upon. There was no beating about the bush with the Reeve, he stated emphatically that he was in favor of the waterworks.

The rest of the Councillors endeavored to make a liar out of the News-Argus in that they made no remarks at the last Council meeting, in which the Editor could have jumped to the conclusion that the council was unanimous. Fortunately the Editor took down what was said on the matter at the council meeting. The amusing part to the writer at last night's meeting was that Councillor Patterson was the only one who came out and stated straight from the shoulder that he was not in favor of the waterworks. Although during his remarks he stated "he could not say whether he was in favor of it or not." Councillors Meiklejohn and Hatton were both in favor of the waterworks last night, providing they could be assured that it would pay for itself. Councillor Sandercock stated clearly that he was for the project.

To clear the News-Argus, the following is taken from the notes of the last council meeting. During the discussion of the waterworks question the following statements were made —Councillor Meiklejohn: "I would like to see a waterworks system, but by George, I don't know whether the people are ready for it." Councillor Patterson—"Yes, a water system is allright, but ...." Nothing was stated about his not being in favor of it. Councillor Hatton: "No doubt a water system is allright, but I am going to dig a well in my cellar...." Councillor Sandercock: "If anyone would be benefitted by a waterworks system, it would be me. It would be allright, but.... "

Home, Sweet Home

What takes place behind the scenes in the home affects for good will or ill the community in which we live, no matter what laws we may enact.

A nation may have great military strength, great mints and industries, but unless it is strong in its homes, it is a weak nation. One of the first requirements of a home is religion. Character is based on religion and there can be no good citizenship without character.

Another essential is efficiency. To work hard, to strain, to sweat for a noble cause is heroic, but to waste effort is folly. Efficiency in the home is more important than efficiency in factory. In the latter, inefficiency merely wastes time and money, while inefficiency in the home wastes something more prescious—strength and inspiration.

Efficiency in the home puts the drudgery of housekeeping in the background and glorifies the task of housekeeping. It also gives the homemaker time to cultivate a more abundant soul life, and more time to spend with her family and in community service.

Beauty and comfort are essential as efficiency. It does take money to have them in the home; but their achievement is dependent, no so much on coin as upon the love and interest which the homemaker puts into her home. We as homekeepers, need to think more about the beauty and comfort of our homes, to study domestic science, color harmony, beauty of line, the balanced diet, and all the economics of housekeeping.

And back of all these tangible things is an indefinable something which might be called atmosphere. It is made up of love and joy and harmony and friendliness. It is not a selfish thing which is bounded by four square walls, but it bubbles over into the community and expresses itself in civic service.

It is very important that we should put our heart and soul into our homes for the kind of citizens our boys and girls will become is determined by the kind of homes we make for them.

Stirling business men should always bear this fact in mind:—Good will is the disposition of the pleased customer to return to the place where he has been well treated.

JOHN LEIGH

(Belleville Ontario)

The death of John Leigh, superintendent of Hastings County House of Refuge, removes one of the most faithful officials of Hastings County and a real friend to the elderly and lonely men and women who have been under his charge. No inmates of any institution had a more kind friend to watch their doings and to see that they were well cared for.

John Leigh liked his aged charges. He knew their foibles and their weaknesses, yet he was kindly and considerate. He made allowance for their shortcomings and made life as cheery as possible for them. Many of them may not be able to appreciate what he has done for them, yet some will, for his humanity shone in every act of his.

His death at the age of fifty years, not yet at the peak of life as it is lived today, while his charges linger on from seventy to one hundred years of age, is one of the anomalies of life. Yet it would not be life did such conditions not exist. The strong keeper and guardian, in middle age passes from the scene decades before the aged, broken and infirm. Through the kindly treatment he gave his "family" of aged men and women, many of them will live for dozens of years after his death.

SELF GOVERNMENT

(Financial Post)

The recent serious failure of a somewhat prominent brokerage house in Toronto has caused a great deal of discussion in financial circles, especially amongst brokers and their clients as to the best means of protecting investors and speculators in their dealings with brokers. Legislation is generally mentioned as a panacea that can cure all ills but in the majority of such cases legislation has a bad side as well as a good side. Not only are brokerage operations hampered but business is made public that should be kept entirely private.

The simplest protection for the public would lie in the enforcement of a periodical audit of the books of the various brokerage houses, undertaken in behalf of the stock exchanges themselves, to the committees of which an adequate report subsequently would be made. Such an audit would have to cover well-thought-out lines so as to make it quite apparent that any given broker was carrying on his business in such a way as not to jeopardize his clients.

It would be quite easy for any competent auditor to make a report showing whether or not any broker was utilizing his clients' stocks or money in an improper way and before any serious situation would arise a quarterly audit would almost certainly prevent such a disastrous occurrence as has just transpired in Toronto financial circles.

Voluntary action by the stock exchanges along these lines would render unnecessary legislative interference to allay public uncertainty.

CHURCH HAS SUCCESSFUL YEAR

The Financial Report for the year 1928, of the Stirling Pastoral Charge of the United Church of Canada, is being issued. This charge embraces the congregationof St. Paul's Church, Stirling, and that of Carmel Church, three miles to the west of this village.

The statements of the several Treasurers show that all organizations and their funds are in a very healthy condition. All financial undertakings and allocations for the year have been fully met. The various properties have been maintained in first class condition, and balances are on hand to the amount of $880.

The United Church's challenge for support of its Missionary program and for the maintenance of its various other activities has been taken seriously. The Women's Missionary Auxiliary and the Mission Band of St. Paul's have come tETAOINETAOIN0 Paul's have together contributed $625 and in addition sundry useful supplies, while the congregations, Young People's Societies and Sunday Schools of these two churches have supported the Church's Misionary and Maintenance Fund with contributions which total $3000. The Report leaves no doubt in the minds of any who may read it as to the loyalty of United Churchmen to the cause with which they are associated. Rev. C. W. Barrett, as minister for the first six months of the year, and Rev. E. W. Rowland for the remaining months, are to be congratulated on the results as recorded therein. (Con).

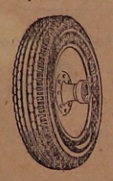
The Royal Master



Not one Royal Master in a thousand will ever puncture. Not one in five thousand will blow out under two years of service.

WE hate to see tire mileage wasted—when it might be saved so easily.

We love to see well-cared-for tires.

We enjoy making the small repair in a cut tread, a bruised sidewall, knowing full well that such repairs add thousands of miles to the life of tires.

That's why we recommend a weekly outside examination of tires—and a periodic overhauling inside and out several times a year.

This enables us to find all injuries at their beginning—to make the "stitch in time".

Mistaken Identity

A certain young man was recently speeding merrily along the road when he caught up with a party of children on their way to school. He asked them if they cared to ride, and for an answer they piled into his Ford until it was so completely filled that one little girl had to sit in the driver's lap. She was a plump little thing and the driver cuddled her close to keep her away from the steering wheel. "Do you like school?" he asked her.

"Yes, sir," she lisped.

"Do you go every day?"

"I haven't missed a day this year," the little girl replied.

"Good little girl!" said the driver, kissing her soft cheek. "Do you like your teacher?"

"Yes, sir," said the little girl, "I'm the teacher!"

And the Ford darned near went into the ditch!

THE MAN WHO LAUGHS FIRST

(By Rev. W. H. Stevens of Evanston, Wyoming)

You've all heard the trite little mooto
That he who laughs last laughs the best,
Be that as it may, 'tis a half-hearted way
Of meeting a friend's little jest.
Perhaps it is wise to be solemn,
And sit back with lips tightly pursed,
Till all of the rest have applauded with zest;
But here's to the man that laughs first.

Of course I am twisting the motto
To suit this melodious lay,
But many I've found, who twist it around
In just this identical way.
Pray go to the play if you doubt it,
And wait for the laughter to burst,
The number is vast that waits to laugh last;
So here's to the man that laughs first.

We all like the rollicking fellow
Who sees in a jiffy the point,
Who throws back his head and laughs "on the dead."
Till his features are all out of joint.
The man that laughs last, I imagine,
With a weak sense of humor is cursed;
Let's laugh while we may; 'tis but for a day;
So here's to the man who laughs first.

THE PROVINCIAL LGEGISLATURE

Toronto, March 8th, 1929

With a view of curbing the wholesale chicken thieving now prevalent throughout Ontario, the Standing Committee on Agriculture of the Legislature is forwarding a recommendation urging the introduction of legislation designed to cope with the situation. The proposed legislation would embody provisions that would make it necessary for all persons transporting fowl to have a license. In addition it is proposed that they carry records showing where the fowl was purchased and to whom it was sold.

During the sessions of the Committee they were informed that the theft of chickens was reaching serious proportions in Ontario and that some adequate check must be designed. The Department of Agriculture, which has been studying the question for some time, suggests that authority be given police officers to make a search of all trucks carrying poultry and, in addition, that they may be given the right to examine the records of the transportation company to ascertain where the fowl originated and their destination.

Addressing a deputation of women who recently visited the Parliament Buildings, Hon. George S. Henry, Minister of Highways, assured them that there would be some form of Old Age Pensions operating in Ontario before the end of the year. For some time the Government has been making a survey prior to the introduction of the necessary legislation. This survey, it is stated, is practically complete and a draft form of the law has been drawn up by the law clerks.

Total benefits awarded in February by the Workmen's Compensation Board were $626,148 which included $102,002 for medical aid. These figures are lower than in January when the total benefits were $673,776, including $106,399 for medical aid.

During February there were 6,640 accidents reported to the Board which included 49 fatal cases. Both of January, when 6,1888 accidents, with 37 fatalities were reported.

Following the representations of a deputation which waited on the government this week consideration is being given the suggestion that a 75 foot beacon tower be erected in the Baden hills as a memorial to the late Sir Adam Beck, the founder of Hydro. Seven of the original hydro municipalities, through their representatives waited in the Cabinet, urging that the location was extremely fitting as it overlooked Sir Adam's birthplace. Hon. Geo. S. Henry assured the deputation that their suggestion would receive the serious attention of the government.

Work of the Otnario Department of Forestry in distributing free of charge trees to residents of the province for planting and windbreak purposes is receiving editorial support from many of the Ontario papers. According to the department 14,000,000 trees are available for free ditsribution this year. Last year nearly 5,000 persons accepted trees from the government.

Each resident of the province can get 4,000 trees each year by paying the express from the nearest forestry station which are situated in Norfolk, Simcoe, Durham, Prince Edward and Grenville Counties. If the trees are called for there is no expense attached. According to statistics of the department some 431,793 trees were planted in York county last year. Free allotment of trees numbers 4,000 but additional quantities are supplied at $4 per thousand.

During 1928, or for the first time in history, Ontario's mineral production exceeded $100,000,000 in value according to a report of the Ontario Department of Mines. Jump of $11,000,000 in the production of nickel and copper went a long way to establish the record-breaking production figure. Total production for the year was $100,238,933, or an increase of 11 per cent. above production of 1927.

Due to a heavier demand for building material structural minerals showed a rise of more than $500,000, having a total value of $14,688,210. Non-metallic minerals with a total of $7,679,133 were only $30,000 higher than in 1927.

In an effort to check the further spread of silicosis, Hon. Dr. Forbes Godfrey, Minister of Health, has introduced in the Legislature a bill to compel all granite workers to wear a mask while engaged in their occupation. In addition the bill, which has received first reading, will provide for the medical examination of all such workers as soon as possible after the bill becomes law. The disease is caused through inhaling stone dust into the lungs. The mask in an invention of Dr. Fred Bulmer of the Ontario Health Department and is operated on an air pressure basis. The mask is light and comfortable and can be worn with ease.

LINDY CARRIED LETTER

The News-Argus is indebted to Miss C. Martin for the following article relating to Mrs. E. McNabb, of Rochester, who is a resident at Oak Lake during the summer months:

"Charles A. Lindbergh carried a letter from the Panama Canal zone to Miami, Fla., for Mrs. E. M. McNabb, 2721 North Anthony boulevard. The letter was brought to the United States by Lindbergh when he inaugurated the Pan-American air mail line recently. It was from Lieut. H. M. Martin, a brother to Mrs. McNabb. Lieut. Martin is an aviation instructor with the Pacific fleet and is stationed at Balboa, Canal Zone. The letter was postmarked at Balboa, on February 7 and arrived here February 15. Mr. McNabb is manager of the local office of the Burroughs Adding Machine Co."

Mrs. McNabb is a niece of Miss C. Martin and Mrs. Watt, of Stirling.

WHAT TO DO

If you're feelin' tired and blue,
And you don't know what to do,
Do nothin'.
If your appetite's not right,
And your waistband's gettin' tight,
Stop stuffin'.
If your plans are awry,
And you feel you want to cry,
Go fishin'.
If you can't see far ahead,
And wish that you were dead,
Stop wishin'.
If you know you talk too much,
And your neighbor's feelin' touch,
Stop talkin'.
If your nerves are all askew,
There is one good thing to do,
Go walkin'.
If you're runnin' into debt,
And can't pay for what you get,
Stop buyin'.
If you'd like to reach the top,
And are just about to stop,
Keep tryin'.

SPRING POETS

Will soon be with us again. Rhyming jingles of spring and sing, etc.

But the spring poetry that most of us won't hear anything about will be composed around garages and back yards when the fine days come, by gents who are trying their cars out for the first time since last fall and finding that there is a corbon knock here or something loose there and that the garage man will have to feel her pulse before there can be any driving this spring.

And the poems will all be about how many and different kinds of "saps" he has been all winter for not having the work done while the bus was idle.

Don't be in this "Spring Poet" class. Bring yours in now — you're still early enough if you do it NOW.

PAGEANT ENJOYED

The Sunday evening service in St. Paul's United Church on March 3rd was a most impressive one, when a pageant "The Striking of Canada's Hour" was put on under the auspices of the League. Rev. E. W. Rowland, prolocutor, announced the pageant, "Heed well the words of the Spirit of Brotherhood who since time began has dwelt upon this earth supported by Justice and Liberty." Mr. Fred McKee, Trumpeter, then summoned with his trumpet the following ladies —Mrs. J. D. Mills, representing the Spirit of Brotherhood; Mrs. Jackson, Justice and Mrs. Macklin, Liberty. They apepared and stood throughout the pageant. The twenty-seven members of the choir sang "Lead on, O King eternal," and other selections, throughout the evening. Worldly kingdoms rise and perish. From each an account is given. "Egypt and Babylonia appeared while the choir sang "O where are Kings and Empires now." Greece and Rome appeared next and they too, are condemned by Brotherhood. "Thou didst not send out the true light to lighten the world." Justice—"Thou art weighed in the balances and found wanting", and by Liberty "Thou didst not set thy people free." "Today stands a land exalted until the eyes of all the earth are turned to her." Canada, (Mrs. Dobbie) enters with her handmaidens: Dorothy Joblin, Marjorie Danford, Grace McKee and Grace Wright, who grouped themselves at Canada's feet while the choir sang "O Canada." Next entered a group of Indians, Mrs. Jackman, Pauline Jackman and Farley Lindenfield and then the pioneers appeared, Mr. and Mrs. Lindenfield, Robert Jones, Marion Tucker, and the choir sang the "Maple Leaf Forever." Next came the immigrants, Mrs. Sandercock, Irene Hulin, Mary Hulin, Etta Thompson, Marion Bailey and Mr. Macklin. Later came in the foreigners: China, Geneva Wright; India, Evelyn Lindenfield; Japan, Margaret Walt; Korea, Florence Bailey; Africa, Pearl Reid; Arabia, Florence Eggleton. "The choir then sang "From Greenland's Icy Mountains." These groups appealed to Canada to help find the realization of Christ's promise of the universal Kingdom of God. Spirit of Brotherhood addressed Canada. "They wait before thee, Canada, in every land and the hour of thy opportunity is striking." Then a group of non-Christian children, Marie Luery, Thelma Shore, Inez Elgie, Olive Munroe, Ruth Martin, Iva Lummis sang a chorus "Away o'er the ocean, in lands far away." Then entered a group of Christian children singing "Away in a manger," as a motion song. Madeline Luery, Margaret Eggleton, Jean Munroe, Helen Jeffrey, Helen and Gladys Turner. Liberty stepped forward and held up a cross. "Call me not Liberty. There is no liberty but the liberty wherewith Christ hath set us free. Liberty then offered the Cross to Canada who accepted it while Miss Bessie Conley sang "Lift up the Cross, the world's desire, that all mankind may see." Egypt, Irene Bailey; Rome, Ruth Eggleton; Babylonia, Helen Jones. Thus ended a very instructive and illuminating pageant. The collection amounted to twenty-one dollars. Great praise is due to Mesdames Mills and Walt in managing this pageant and as for the actors, their work merits the mark of professionals.

STUDENTS BACK PRINCIPAL WHO DENIES INJURING GIRL

Colborne, Ont., March 9.—Absolute denial that he could have caused any injury to Dorothy McKim was voiced today by Principal George F. Kennedy of the high school here. He describes the incident, which her parents claim has caused the girl to be confined to her home with concussion of the brain as merly touching her with the back of his hand to draw her attention to a problem she was working at the blackboard. Other students in the third form, where the incident occurred, support the statement of the principal and claim that what he did could not have caused serious injury.

The condition of the girl, 15 years old, and the daughter of the Anglican rector, is said to be so serious that the local doctor found it necessary to call another doctor for consultation. The opinion has been expressed to her parents that recovery may take more than six months.

"She told us that Mr. Kennedy had sent a number of pupils to the board to work problems. Everybody failed to do them right and when he got to Dorothea she told him that she was not finished," the girl's mother said. It was at this time the girl claims to have received her injuries.

"The principal made me stand there while he explained the problem," the mother alleges, "although she says she was so dazed she didn't know what he was saying. When she came home at noon she couldn't eat and she felt so bad I made her lie down for the afternoon. When her father came in about six o'clock she looked so bad we sent for Dr. Pember. He examined her and said he thought she had a concussion.

"That night her temperature ran to 104 degrees and the next day Dr. Pember called another doctor from Brighton for consultation. She lost control of her eylids and wasn't able to open them until today and she could not open her jaws either. We still have to keep her very quiet. No one talks to her and the doctors say it may be six months before she recovers and even then it may not be complete."

The girl's family have taken no action in the case except that Mrs. McKim states that she called Mr. Kennedy up on Monday but that he indignantly denied striking Dorothea.

Interviewed at the school Mr. Kennedy declared vehemently that he had not injured the girl.

"When I came to her at the blackboard she wasn't paying any attention to her work. I just reached out and touched her with the back of my mand and said: 'Dorothea, pay attention'. Then I went ahead and explained the problem and she wrote it down, went to her seat and acted just as usual. That was the second period in the morning. If she was hurt why didn't she go home at recess time? She acted perfectly natural all through the morning."

Questioned as to how the girl could have come by her injuries, Mr. Kennedy stated that he had heard from several sources that she had gone home and while lying on the couch had fallen off, strikink the back of her head.

"I'm perfectly sure she couldn't have received any injury at all from me," repeated Mr. Kennedy.

Donald McDougall, who saw the whole affair, corroborated Mr. Kennedy's statement. "I saw him touch her but I'm perfectly sure he couldn't have struck her enough to even hurt her let alone cause a concussion of the brain."

Janet Tait and Marjorie Mutton told similar stories and all stated positively that Dorothea had behaved quite as usual after going back to her seat.

William Fowler, John Marley, William Willis who were in the room at the time, claim they heard no disturbance and did not know that anything untoward was happening while Maria Moore, who stood next to the injured girl at the board, was also unaware of anything unusual.

Meanwhile the school board have taken no action in the matter.

"There seems to be some doubt as to how hard Mr. Kennedy struck the girl, and many feel that his blow couldn't have caused this injury. We can't tell all that happened until we can talk with the girl and until it is proven beyond a doubt that Mr. Kennedy is directly responsible for the girl's condition there is nothing we can do," stated Edward Quinn, chairman of the school board.

"We can't very well conduct an investigation until the girl is able to be present," added F. Brintnell, chairman of the school committee of the board.

Mrs. McKim absolutely denies that her daughter fell from the couch where she was lying.

They will never get a chance to examine her on what happened. The doctor says we must not talk to her about it all. She certainly suffered no other injury than the one Mr. Kennedy gave her. She talks about the incident all the time, but we never say anything, for the doctor warned us against that."

Whether legal action would be taken in the matter had not been decided, Mrs. McKim stated.

This term is the last that Mr. Kennedy will teach. He completed 40 years in the teaching profession on January first last and, being entitled to superannuation, will retire this summer. He has taught eight years in Colborne, previous to which he was for 19 years principal of the school at Stirling.

Of course it's not, and that is why all the new money needed for expansion of the telephone system cannot be raised by bond issues.

Part of the money will come from bond issues — a new issue has just been announced — but a large part must continue to come from new issues of stock.

If a handicap is placed on telephone expansion the only ultimate sufferers will be those who use, or want, telephones in Ontario and Quebec.

By 1934 Ontario and Quebec will need a million telephones. They cannot be provided without new money to extend the system.

A large frame barn owned by Frank Aikens, third concession of Sidney, was totally destroyed by fire last Thursday morning. The loss was in the neighborhood of $4,000, only partially covered by insurance. The origin of the blaze is a mystery as a hired man was working in the barn not fifteen minutes before the blaze was seen and nothing was noticed at that time. Mr. Aikens lost all his hay and grain and a number of pieces of farm machinery. None of the stock was in the barn, the cattle being out for water and the horses were housed in a nearby driveshed.

On Wednesday, last week, at four o'clock in the afternoon, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Nicholson, third concession of Sidney, was discovered to be on fire. The flames had obtained a good start before being discovered and nothing could be done to save either building or contents which were a total loss. There was nobody at home at the time of the fire, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson being absent in Belleville. When they returned their home was just a mass of smoking ruins. The origin of the fire is unknown and the building and contents were only partially covered by insurance.

Louis M. Auger, Member of Parliament for Prescott County, who has been committer for trial on a charge of committing a grave offence against a 17-year-old girl, will remain in jail until his case is called at the Spring Assizes, which open March 18. Contrary to expectations no application for bail was presented in County Court, Ottawa, on Saturday.

Bowmanville Collegiate Institute won Interscholastic hockey championship of Eastern Ontario on Monday night at Tweed, when they defeated that Collegiate Institute in the second game of the round by a 2-0 score, the first game being a tie.

Trenton is likely to become the main training base and operating station of the Royal Canadian Air Force at present permanently stationed at Camp Borden. That is the situation at present. It is understood the engineers who recently went over the available ground at Trenton, have reported in favor of the Trenton site.

Statute labor was abolished in the Townships of Belmont and Methuen at a meeting of the Peterboro County Council held last Thursday directly after the public meeting of the ratepayers of the townships, which was held in the Town Hall to consider the matter and addressed by Austin Fellows, resident engineer of the Department of Highways. The inducement offered by Mr. Fellows which was responsible for the change was that the Government would grant eighty per cent. of the cost of road construction and maintenance, leaving only twenty per cent for the province.

Work was commenced a few weeks ago on a second Hydro line which is being erected from the Gatineau to Toronto. At present large gangs of men are at work clearing the right-of-way along the line which was completed last fall from the Gatineau, and a new string of towers will be built. These towers have an average height of seventy feet and the spans between the poles are about one thousand feet, or five to the mile. When this second line is completed, this will be the longest high-voltage line in the world, as each line carries 220,000 volts. The first line was put in under adverse weather conditions during the winter and required a year for completion, but the Hydro engineers are figuring on finishing the new line in a shorter period. The Toronto-Gatineau line runs east and west, eighteen miles north of Stirling, and crosses the farm of Abe Robinson, who will be remembered as the storm centre of the north and who protested vigorously when the first line was put through. The second line will be even closer to his home than the first and no doubt much diplomacy will have to be exercised or he will again raise an objection.

THE LATE JOHN LEIGH

A well known and highly respected citizen of Belleville, John Leigh, superintendent of the County House of Refuge, died at an early hour last Thursday morning, after a serious illness of about one week's duration. The late Mr. Leigh was born in Manchester, England, in 1878. He came to this country when a boy and resided in Hastings County all his life. In early life he was associated with John Kerr, Roslin and C. W. Thompson, Rawdon Township. While with the latter he returned to England for seven years. After his return to Hastings he took up farm life. In 1918 Mr. Leigh was appointed Superintendent of the House of Refuge. He was known for his integrity and his upright character. He was ever desirous of doing good and was a most efficient official for the county. He always took a keen interest in the sports of Belleville and was an ardent supporter of that city's baseball team. In religion the late Mr. Leigh was a member of Bridge Street United Church. He leaves a widow and an only son, John Leigh of Belleville.

THE LATE CLINTON HOGLE

The news of the death of Clinton Hogle in Trenton on Tuesday afternoon last week came as a shock to the residents of this section. Mr. Hogle was born in Rawdon township, near Wellman's Corners, 60 years ago, and farmed near there and at Sine. He was also proprietor of the store and postoffice at the latter place 20 years ago.

Shortly after leaving there he moved to Alberta and performed homestead conditions in that province. Returning from the west they have lived in Trenton ever since. Mr. Hogle is survived by his wife, also two sisters, Mrs. John Robinson of Detroit and Mrs. Webster Hyde of Trenton, and other relatives, and numerous friends in Rawdon and Sidney townships. A daughter predeceased Mr. Hogle several years ago and his only son, Claude was killed while serving overseas during the great war.

The funeral service was held on Thursday afternoon at his late residence. Burial was made at Bethel cemetery near Sine, under the auspices of Stirling Lodge No. 239 I.O. O.F., of which Mr. Hogle had been a member for nearly twenty years.

Deceased was noted for his genial and hospitable manner and will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

The pall bearers were H. Rollins, Elgin Jackman, George Megginson, C. M. Sine, C. U. Heath and Mason Clarke, of Lodge No. 239, I.O.O.F.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

About seventy-five of the friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terry, 9th Con. of Murray to spend a social evening with their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Terry who have recently returned from their honeymoon. Mr. Hugh Rose presented them with a purse of money while Mr. Bob Coulter read the following address:

Frankford, Ontario,
March 6th, 1929.

To Don and Mrs. Terry,—

Our meeting in your home tonight is an occasion which gives us, your friends and neighbors, a genuine pleasure.

It gives us an opportunity not alone of congratulating you, but also of expressing to you our very best wishes on this your matrimonial venture. Standing, as it were, on the threshold of your wedded life, you are looking into the future with bright hopes of a long, joyful and prosperous life together. That your anticipations may be fully realized is our wish towards you. There will be clouds, but we hope that sunshine will be so great that they will appear as mere specks on your sky of happiness.

Mrs. Terry, we welcome you to our neighborhood, and hope that you will find it always a pleasure to mingle with us and to be a participator in our community activities.

We now ask you, Don and Thora, to accept this purse as a slight token of the respect and good-will which we, as a neighborhood, hold toward you.

Signed on behalf of the neighborhood—

Don Nelson,
Frank Rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry welcomed their friends and thanked them for the gift.

BORN

TURNER—In Stirling on Wednesday, March 6th, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Turner, a daughter.

DIED

SINE—In Toronto General Hospital, on Monday, March 11th, 1929, Mabel Summerfield, relict of the late Gordon H. B. Sine, aged 34 years, 2 months and 21 days.

MARMORA'S OLDEST RESIDENT

The old adage "Early to bed, and early to rise" was never followed any more closely than it has been by Geo. Albert Wright, Marmora's oldest resident, who if living on April 4th, will be ninety-three years of age. His habits of today still include rising at an early hour—6.30 a.m. and retirement to rest shortly after supper.

"Al," as he is familiarly known locally, was born at Adolphustown, between Hay Bay and Back Bay, but at the age of eight moved with his parents to Rawdon township, where a part of what is now A. P. Williams' property, a shanty was erected and clearance of land started. This was not the first residence of Al's father, Western Wright, in the district. The latter, born in Massachusetts, was a foundry worker, and was attracted to Marmora in the early days of the ill-fated iron works.

Western Wright, after moving to Adolphustown married into the Roblin family of that neighborhood. One of his sons, Phillip, two years the senior of Albert, fought in the American civil war, passing through it unscathed. He came to an untimely death, however, being gored by a bull, which he was leading to pasture.

Despite his advanced age the subject of this sketch still enjoys as ever good health. His vision and hearing, are however, slightly affected. He much enjoys discoursing on the past. Referring to the shanty which became his first home in Rawdon he described it as being roofer with slit basswood. No stove heated it, but a Dutch oven. Wolves were numerous and menacing. They would go up on the roof and look down the chimney, but seeing the fire would quickly retreat. Asked if any ever tumbled down, he mentioned that they were too sure-footed and took no risks. "Al" recalled the winter of the deep snow, when three days of steady snowing were followed by days of rain with resultant floods. He recalled how, during the floods the carding mill belonging to Mr. Mills was swept away. Mr. McWilliams, the mail carrier to Stirling in those days was stranded in Stirling for over a week, so bad were the floods.

"Al" has always been clean shaven and even last week paid a visit to his barber, walking there and back from the residence of his son Robert, with whom he has been staiyng for the past six months, on the west side of Crowe River.

His religion is that of the United Church, but it is in politics perhaps that he is the most definite. Though an ardent Conservative, he is nevertheless broadminded. "I believe in two sides of the House," he said. "I was brought up a Conservative, but there has to be two sides before you can get any decent government." He has been a resident of Marmora for twenty-two years and is proud of the fact that he has been a taxpayer for more than 60 years of his long life. His father lived to be ninety-six, and the many friends of "Al" hope with the activity he possesses that he will be spared to closely approach the century mark.

ST. PAUL'S W. M. S.

On March 12th a good number of women gathered in the church parlor to learn more of the needs of the heathen world, to pray for our missionary work and to sing praises to our risen Saviour. Were all the ladies present? Were you there? Your excuse maybe was your activity in the material things of life. Were you justified in such an excuse? The President opened the meeting with hymn 187 on Easter, followed by prayers led by Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Macklin and Mrs. Corrigal. The ever-beautiful Easter lesson was read by Miss Heasman. Minutes were read and approved. The Pres. read the request for fruit and quilts from the Deaconess board for the Fresh Air camp and for distribution among the poor. This was not a part of our allocation, but simply a special appeal to our generosity, to which we responded with 2 crates of canned fruit and 7 quilts. A letter of sincere thanks was read from the Supt. of the Deaconess board. Our allocation for the bale was discussed and the decision was to pack and send between Sept. 1st and 15th. Our allocation in money is to be the same as last year. The Fin. Sec., Mrs. Corrigal, reported on her work and read an article advocating the use of envelopes for our contributions, the training of our families to liberality and to honor the Lord with our substance. Easter solos were sung by Mrs. E. Luery and Mrs. Fred Haight. An excellent synopsis of the first two chapters of "Drums in the darkness" was given by Mrs. C. Lansing and an interesting reading by Mrs. Raymond Chambers on non-comfortless. After a hymn, the meeting closed with prayer led by Mrs. A. McCutcheon.

WATERWORKS DISCUSSED

With these remarks and no words or condemnation the Editor left the meeting justified in announcing that the Council were unanimous for the proposition. However if any Councillor has been effected by the announcement this paper apologizes—but the editor does not feel like taking the intimation of having the news item termed as an untruth when he was justified in making the announcement.

Last night Councillor Meiklejohn stated "I am not in favor of waterworks unless the revenue from it will pay its way. When I know that then we will know where we stand." Mr. Meiklejohn was in favor of sewerage, but felt the waterworks would be a fine thing if it paid its way.

Councillor Sandercock said: "Personally I am favor of the waterworks. But the News-Argus does not know, or no one else knows, how I will vote."

Councillor Hatton: "I am of the same opinion as Mr. Meiklejohn, and would be in favor if it would pay for itself." Mr. Hatton was in favor of sewerage.

Dr. Potts, local heatlh officer, arose at this point and stated that no one had touched on the question of public health. After speaking of the condition of the local wells, emphasized that a permanent waterworks system was an aid to health insurance as well as fire insurance.

Clerk G. H. Leury: "I feel sure a lot of people want the waterworks if they can get it at a price they can afford." Mr. Luery was in favor of the council proceeding with a survey and then they would have all data at their finger tips. Mr. Luery was in favor of waterworks if it could be installed at the right price.

Chairman Martin, after stating emphatically at the beginning of the meeting that he was not in favor of the system, arose at this point and stated "with the information we have on hand I can hardly see how a man can sanely give a decision on the question. The chief reason that I am not in favor of it is that a large percentage of the residents are not in a position to afford it."

Reeve Montgomery arose and stated that the object of the meeting was to get the sentiment of the citizens and see if they wanted the council to proceed with a survey. He intimated that he desired the chairman to find this out, but apparently Mr. Martin did not understand as a showing of hands was not requested.

J. S. Morton—"I feel everyone in Stirling wants the waterworks, but not at too big a cost. The fire protection is a big item. I am in favor of the council going ahead and securing a survey even if it does cost two or three hundred dollars. Then we would know what we are talking about."

G. W. Jones: "I would like to know what will be done with surplus water." Mr. Jones was in favor of a sewer and stated that he had lived and been in different places, but did not know of any place with waterworks and not the sewerage system. Nevertheless there are over fifty towns in Ontario with only the water works and no sewerage. Mr. Jones felt that before any more was spent a canvass should be made of the ratepayers.

Following the speeches a three-reel movie of the digging of a well and pump installation was shown through the courtesy of Mr. Fleming. This was very interesting and instructive.

In all probability a survey will be made and another public meeting will be held. Stirling needs permanent waterworks and needs it badly.

STIRLING WON TROPHY

emerged from the first game of the finals for the Trent Valley League Championships in a tie with Billy Whitty's red and white Stirling outfit. The score was 2-2 and it is a fair indication of the play from the start. As a result of the game last nigh ending in a dead-lock, the two clubs will enter the second struggle at Stirling on Tuesday night on even terms. The Stirling team have the advantage of playing in their own rink and before a home crowd, and if this is any handicap the Tweed picksters will need to show better form than they did last night to cop the mug this year. Previously the Tweed outfit had won seventeen out of twenty games and it was considered folly to attempt to tie or trim them in their own bailiewick.

There was little to chose from between the two teams. Both teams showed plenty of cohesion and teamplay and the results of careful coaching were shown. There was too much at stake to play a wide-open style of hockey and at times the checking was almost intense. Seldom did a man break through to go in on the goalie and leave him unprotected, the defences played sound consistent hockey and there was plenty of stiff body-checking handed out.

The Stirling fans came over four hundred strong in a special train and every nook and cranny in the arena was occupied. The visitors were satisfied that the game ended in a tie and feel confident that their pets can turn the trick at home on Tuesday. There were no particular stars on either team, but the goal-tending of young Morton for Stirling was outstanding. The youngster made half a dozen sensational saves, coming out of his goal to frustrate the Tweed team's assault after they had sifted through. The Tweed team is made up chiefly of Geraldis and Quinns, there being four brothers from the Geraldi family playing. Tom Beatty presented a right smart player in Smith, a right winger. This boy is a flash but he was kept well lashed to the mast last night He knows what to do with the rubber when he gets it and had the Stirling fans on pins and needles most of the time. Smith has made a reputation for himself in the north country and every time he secured the gypsum one of the players was camped on him and hence he was able to do little damage. Max and George Geraldi both turned in stirring games with Quinn in goal saving nicely on several occasions.

Davis was one of Stirling's best but he is inclined to individual work rather than combination and on a number of occasions with one of his teammates facing a yawning net he refused to pass it. Davis is one sweet poke-checker around centre ice but he appears to be a little slow on the getaway. Parnell turned in a good game and was real efefctive. Parnell bagged the last goal and it came after he had peppered Quinn from the wing. Wallace and Ackers were travelling at fast clip and the latter was the means of shattering several dangerous rushes by the opposition. Wallace is effective although a trifle clumsy, while Ingram was always dangerous on his long solo efforts. Hoard made an effective substitute and had he been handed one or two passes in the first period when left uncovered, might have driven the rubber home. Quinn on the defence for Tweed and Hansford, as well as the other two Geraldi brothers were all in their usual good form. It was a fast game of hockey and make no mistake about it. Belleville fans who have not been a ringside at one of these Trent Valley League games will not be going far astray by finding themselves a corner in the Stirling igloo on Tuesday night. Ernie Wortley, Toronto, handled the game last night and will likely be chosen for the return fixture.

DID NOT STRIKE GIRL

Much unnecessary publicity has been given Prin. Geo. E. Kennedy, of Colborne High School, formerly of Stirling, during the past week. One of Mr. Kennedy's girl students, after suffering concussion, supposed to have been caused from a fall, claimed that the principal had hit her on the head during algebbr period. Mr. Kennedy is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Thos. E. Eggleton and Mr. F. N. McKee, Stirling. Mr. McKee received a letter from Mr. Kennedy explaining the situation and the News-Argus reprints it in full, deliting the personal sections, as follows:—

"I really have got into the limelight, through no fault of mine. I had a number of students at the board doing algebra, second class in the morning. I was going around the room helping those who could not do the question I had given. I came to Dorothy McKim. She was not even trying hers. I touched her to call her attention and showed her how to do her work. She did the question and then took her seat. She stayed until noon. After dinner she took a pain in her head and did not come back to school and told her mother I had hit her on the head. Evidently she took a pain all right. They called in the doctor and he pronounced it concussion of the brain, and I got the blame. They spoke to the Chairman of the Board. He came to me. I told him I did not hit the girl, so they could get no satisfaction there. Then someone sent word to the Star. They sent a reporter down. He came to the school. I told him what had happened and that I was not the one who gave her concussion. I told him to ask the students who were in the room at the time. A number said they did not see me touch her at all. Four or five did see me touch her and stated emphatically that I mererly touched her to call her attention. So he went away satisfied that I was not to blame. But the paper got a hold of it and you see how it went. I have not been able to find out who started the report, but it is totally untrue that I struck the girl. I may yet find out and will probably make someone smart for it. The girl will soon be all right and Colborne papers and people know I am innocent of causing trouble. But someone got the report out and it has gone the round. I am quite safe. Some say she fell in her own home and hit her head. Other than that it is an attack of the flu. Dorothy is 15 years old, is very slow at school and has lied. She is an Anglican minister's child. My students and teachers know I did not hurt the girl and will see me out of the muddle."

SURPRISE AND PRESENTATION

A large gathering of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. G. Meggison on Monday night to surprise his sister, Miss M. Meggison who is leaving for Stirling. After a good program of which the Rev. Mr. Rowland was chairman, Miss Nina Carlisle read the following address and Mrs. W. Carlisle, Mrs. J. Haig and Mrs. A. Haig presented the gifts, a beautiful floor lamp, leather club bag and a jardiniere.

Miss Maude Megginson,

Dear Friend,—

We have, tonight, come to the home that you are soon to leave, uninvited, to do honor to a dear friend and neighbor. It is with deep regret that we have learned of your proposed departure from our midst, where you have been a life-long resident, to take up your residence in Stirling. We know that in your new home you will make new friends, but we do not want you to forget your old ones. You represent one of the oldest families in the community and one of the most honorable. The tests of years have found you true to the better calls of life. As a friend and neighbor you have proven yourself worthy of the confidence of all, being ready to do a kind act for the welfare of the community. We trust that you may be happy in your new home and we are sure that what will be loss to us here will be gain to others where you live. We do not want you to leave our neighborhood without having an opportunity of showing you in some small way an appreciation of your worth. We ask you to therefore accept these gifts and as you see them in future days, we hope they will remind you of the happy associations in this neighborhood, and we again wish you every happiness in your new home. We also hope we may frequently see you back again and we can assure you of a most hearty welcome.

Signed on behalf of the community,

Mr. and Mrs. W. Carlisle, Mr. and Mrs. J. Haig.

Miss Megginson was completely taken by surprise and thanked them for the lovely gifts and invited them all to visit her in her new home. The ladies then provided a bountiful lunch to which all did ample justice.
